Dear Parent or Caregiver,

We realize that accessing various social and recreational programs for your child with special needs requires planning. The following list of questions has been compiled by parents and professionals who understand some of the considerations and accommodations that may be necessary.

Whether you approach a provider in person, inquire over the phone, or by email, it may be helpful to explain that you are inquiring on behalf of someone who has special needs and you would like to ask a few questions about the program. We realize that not all of these questions may apply to your situation, but you may use them as a guideline to ask relevant questions for your family.

- Do you currently serve any individuals with physical or intellectual disabilities that you know of at this time?
- What is your adult to student ratio for classes and/or activities offered?
- How is your staff trained on providing services for individuals with disabilities?
- Can you provide the additional support my child needs, such as toileting, feeding? (Feel free to share examples of any specific assistance needed.)

The specific details of these programs may change periodically. Please contact the program directly to find out the current costs involved. In addition, you may want to contact the city you live in to request a current listing of recreation activities.

The agencies, individuals and programs listed in this guide are not endorsed by Regional Center of Orange County. This information is provided as a courtesy to assist you with locating recreational and social opportunities. For additional resource information, please contact Comfort Connection Family Resource Center at (714) 558-5400 or email ccfrc@rcoedd.com.

Airport Travel

In addition to the resources listed below, RCOC's website features links to helpful articles and resources for air travel. From the home page, go to Family Support – Community Resources – Travel.

TSA Resources: Going through airport security can be especially challenging for those traveling with family members who have special needs. To help make the process easier, the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) can provide a Passenger Support Specialist. Families concerned about the check point process or who need special accommodation can ask a TSA officer or supervisor for help from a Passenger Support Specialist. Parents may also call the TSA Cares hotline at 1-855-787-2227 ahead of time to ensure a Passenger Support Specialist can be onsite when needed. The agency's website (<https://www.tsa.gov/travel/passenger-support>) also features short videos on screening procedures for travelers with autism or intellectual disabilities and those who use mobility devices such as wheelchairs. Families can also download and complete TSA's Disability Notification Card which includes contact information for TSA Cares.

John Wayne Airport: RCOC has partnered with John Wayne Airport on the Helping Hands program to provide sensitivity training aimed at supporting the airport's efforts to ensure a safe and comfortable experience for all travelers. To receive personalized travel assistance from the Airport's Helping Hands team, stop by the information booth in Terminal B, Arrival (lower) Level, near baggage claim or dial "0" from any of the courtesy phones located throughout the Terminal. To pre-arrange for Helping Hands special assistance, call (949) 252-5200 or email info@ocair.com. Advanced notice is preferred.

The Helping Hands team can:

- Facilitate calls to the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) and arrange for TSA Cares assistance;
- Facilitate calls to individual airlines to arrange special assistance;
- Help guide travelers through the arrival, check-in, security and boarding processes;
- Provide optional yellow bracelets for travelers with special needs to alert Airport employees that a little more time and extra care may be needed.

Prior to your travel date, Helping Hands offers airport tours to help travelers become familiar with the Terminal, check-in and the security process. Call or email the listings above to schedule your tour. Helping Hands is provided at no charge and is available daily from 6am – 11pm. RCOC Emergency Identification Card: Anytime you're in the community, it's a good idea to carry your emergency identification card from Regional Center of Orange County which has information about people that first responders and other security-related professionals can call. If you have lost your emergency identification card, be sure to ask your RCOC Service Coordinator for a new one.

Beach Wheelchairs

Beach Wheelchairs are equipped with large, wide wheels which can roll across the sand without sinking. They usually require users to be accompanied by someone pushing them, although several California locations offer motorized chairs which may be self-propelled.

All of the beaches listed below own their own wheelchairs and lend them free of charge. Users may be asked to leave a form of personal identification while borrowing the chair.

Chairs are most commonly available from a lifeguard or the entrance kiosk at a beach, although a few are handled by concessionaires whose names appear on the list. Some may be reserved ahead of time, while others are available on a first-come, first-served basis. It is recommended to call ahead for availability.

Blue Mobi-Mat

Huntington Beach has rolled out a Mobi-Mat to improve accessibility for visitors with disabilities, parents with strollers, and others with limited mobility. Located next to the parking lot at 6th Street and PCH, the mat serves as a stable walkway that safely leads guests across the sand and to the water's edge (during high tide).

CA State Park Pass: Any individual served by RCOC can apply for a discount pass which allows for use of all basic facilities (including day use parking, camping, and boat/day use parking fees) at any unit of the California State Park system operated by the State Department of Parks and Recreation (DPR) except for Hearst San Simeon SHM. The discount does not apply to fees under $3. The lifetime pass is available for $3.50. If the park charges per person, the individual with disabilities will get in free; if the park charges per vehicle, all passengers in the vehicle will enter free of charge. Please contact your RCOC Service Coordinator for additional information and/or application.

Fishing License: Any individual served by RCOC can apply for a free fishing license. No age limit. Please contact your RCOC Service Coordinator for additional information and/or application.
